Chemical investigation of the n-butanol extract of Mollugo verticillata resulted in the isolation of two new 2,3-dihydro-1H-inden-1-ones, verticillatones A-B (1 and 2), two new cinnamamides, 11'-hydroxy-5-methoxy-7-methoxy-2',3'-dihydro-2'-indeno[2',1':2,3]cinnamidin (3) and 7-methoxy-11'-hydroxy-5-methoxy-2',3'-dihydro-2'-indeno[2',1':2,3]cinnamidin (4), together with two known natural products, kaempferol and quercetin. Their structures were established on the basis of extensive spectroscopic analysis. The structures of the new compounds were further confirmed by single-crystal X-ray diffraction. The antimicrobial activity of the isolated constituents was evaluated by the disk diffusion method using Gram-positive and Gram-negative bacteria. Bistros are everywhere in Atlanta.
